

Where can we go to hear some good music?

Article Number: 101 | Rating: 1/5 from 1 votes | Last Updated: Thu, Dec 7, 2006 12:01 AM

There is always something happening on Ambergris Caye, whether you want to go dancing or just enjoy good music. Big Daddy's has had em shakin' for years. Jaguar Temple is another favorite. Fido's has a lot of music during the evenings. There are several major dance clubs in the town where local DJ's provide a wide range of music both local and foreign. Kareoke is held about twice a week at one of the local dance clubs. Barefoot Iguana is a great nightclub in San Pedro. They have 2 full service bars, 2 levels, special effect lighting, virtual rainforest theme, state of the art lighting and sound. They specialize in top 40, dance, high energy, local, 80s, 90s, and reggae music.

Fido's is good for folks who like live bands. Wet Willy's for a more crazy night dancing outing. Jaguar's & Big Daddy's for the more younger generation dancing people.

Mata Grande Studios, a project covering six buildings including world-class recording studio has recently joined forces with Sundiver Beach Resort. The studio will now be offering a full-blown beachfront resort as well as state-of-the-art recording, 2 pools, private guesthouses, oceanfront suites and public beach bar with lots of live music.

Click here (<http://MataGrandeStudios.com>)

here's a brief look at the music scene in San Pedro from Ebbe at Mata Grande Studios:

Fido's is not open to go, mainly on Wednesdays and Saturdays when 2000 are playing.
Jaguar Bar is a cool place to see and hear live music. Wed is a regular night. We'll not talk on the ground (where there is still there's a DJ) and they can also be found in numerous establishments during the week. Other than that Fido's, Barefoot and Wet Willy's are the best places to go to hear live music. We are always open. There is always live music every night. Check in Ambergris Beach & Mata Grande Studios.

Posted : Marty Casado - Thu, Dec 7, 2006 12:01 AM. This article has been viewed 4794 times.

Online URL: <https://ambergriscaye.com/help/article.php?id=101>