All of the dealers service computer-based cars, and so do lots of GOOD mechanics.

There are "shade-tree mechanics" everywhere, but there are lots of good mechanics with good tools, diagnostic computers, etc. to work on new cars. Before I came to Belize in 1999, I did a lot of research looking for a non-computerized car. It was a waste of time.

People come from all over Belize to get their vehicles fixed in San Ignacio at the two PERFECTO brothers. Who worked for years in the USA. They will get you parts. Friend of mine just got a universal joint and drive shaft for $35 Belize, he said NEW.
