Greetings to my visiting friends

On behalf of the people of San Pedro Town, I extend a warm welcome to all visitors arriving to our shores. I assure you that your trip to "La Isla Bonita" will be no ordinary vacation. Our island is famous for its rich cultural diversity, where Mestizos, Creole and Garinagu blend to form a unique encounter. While here, I encourage you to explore the Caribbean Sea and find Belize's abundant treasures. Hol Chan Marine Reserve and Shark-Ray Alley are just two of the many spots where you can enjoy our coral reef formation and abundant and breathtaking sea life. San Pedro is also home to world-class fishing and scuba diving.

For the more adventurous, "La Isla Bonita" offers a wide array of water sports and for those looking to get a glimpse of the mystical world of the Maya, these historical ruins are just a short expedition away. You will also be able to discover Belize's vast cave systems and many natural sanctuaries that are home to our country's unique flora and fauna.

Whether you are spending your honeymoon at an exclusive resort or looking for an adventurous, yet romantic escape, San Pedro is surely the place to be. I invite you to explore our home and see the many wonders it has to offer.

We welcome you with open arms. Bienvenidos a San Pedro!

Exploring Belize

Belize has embraced the slow season. Restaurants, hotels and bars close temporarily to allow for their yearly renovations. However, tourists enjoy this time just like any other month of the year. The island is yours, it is quieter and the deals are fantastic. So come on over and fall in love with Ambergris Caye. Visit ambergriscaye.com for all the information that you may need to plan your next trip to our Caribbean coastline.

Ambergris Caye is the largest island in Belize, and the main destination for travellers to this western Caribbean nation. San Pedro is the only town on the island. Ambergris Caye has been the hub of Belizean area maritime trade for centuries. Fishing, coconuts, and chicle were historic means of islanders support, but the last thirty years have led to a large growth in both the Belize dive and scuba trade, and ecotourism. The rich variety of things to do in San Pedro Town makes Ambergris Caye the gateway to Belize.

Belize is a democratic, English speaking nation, once known as British Honduras. The weather is mild, the beaches are beautiful, and the history is rich, Belize is a land of swaying palm trees and colorful sunsets.

From the azure waters of the Caribbean, to the Maya Mountains and the Pine Ridge, Belize has an adventure for everyone. Spectacular caves, winding waterfalls, virgin tropical rainforest, and hundreds of limestone caves make for exciting vistas. Belize is home to many ancient Maya ruins and temples that will entice you to learn more of their history. Zip lining through the forest, cave tubing through Maya caves, scuba diving and snorkeling the Belize Barrier Reef, sailing the cayes, parasailing, or just hiking through the jungle, you will find a wonderful, unforgettable journey awaiting you in Belize.

Belize has an amazing coral reef system; it is the second largest in the world and the longest in the Western Hemisphere. The reef runs offshore, and many cayes (islands of coral sand) are surrounded by astounding reefs to snorkel or scuba dive. The reef lies one-half mile east of the Ambergris Caye shoreline and runs the entire 25 mile length of the island. This has made San Pedro Town the dive and water sports capital of Belize and Central America. The Great Blue Hole, Turneffe Islands, Shark Ray Alley, Hol Chan Marine Reserve, Mexico Rocks, Lighthouse Reef, and many other diving areas are all only a short boat ride away from this coconut palm lined island.

Belize has a delightful variety of plant and animal life. With a large percentage of the country's land under protection, the hundreds of bird species, exotic tropical plants, monkeys, manatee, crocodiles, and thousands of colorful fish thrive and are a highlight of any vacation to Belize.

But, truly, the people of Belize are the most memorable part. The mix of ten different cultures include: East Indian, Garifuna, Mestizo, Maya, Mennonites, and Creole. Their wonderful relaxed hospitality will allow you to relax and enjoy your time in Belize.

Come and explore our tropical wonderland. Walk the beaches, learn our history, talk with our people, or buy a home. Have your wedding or honeymoon, or invest in our country. But most of all relax and enjoy your time in Belize.

Many things to do:

There is a great variety of reef types and diving and snorkeling experiences in Belize. The Barrier Reef is 185 meandering miles (298 km) of unspoiled beauty. It varies from eight to 16 miles (13-26 km) from the mainland to less than one mile (1.6

Snorkeling is at its best in Belize.

km) offshore from Ambergris Caye. Much of it is totally unexplored and all of it is easily accessible by boat. The reef is like a gigantic wall running parallel to the coast. Between the mainland and the reef are shallow, sandy waters with numerous mangrove-covered islands (cayes).

While much of the flora and fauna is similar throughout the reef system, there are individual differences to be found everywhere. A particular type of fish may be seen on almost every dive, but during mating season it may congregate in only one or two areas in great numbers. Hard corals, gorgonians, sea fans, tunicates, and shellfish of amazing variety populate Belize coastal waters, but the predominance of one in a particular stretch of reef may give that area its name. Similarly, there are areas where grouper are known to shoal, others where large stingray are prolific or where the diver may encounter a whale shark. The manta ray and spotted eagle ray are fairly common, and the diver can reasonably expect to see one of these magnificent creatures during his visit. Hammerhead shark, Caribbean reef shark and even the oceanic white tip shark are seen occasionally, but these lucky sightings are rare.

Ambergris Caye is justly the most popular attraction to the tourists who come to Belize. The factor that most contributes to this is the unbelievably superb diving and snorkeling conditions. Accessibility to the dive sites, such as Lighthouse Reef, Turneffe Islands, as well as many excellent sites right off Ambergris Caye, combined with excellent weather conditions, clear warm water, the variety of dive sites and in the unlikely chance that a diving accident should occur, the hyperbaric chamber is minutes away from any of the dive sites.

Mainland:

There are many beautiful tours in the land of the Mundo Maya. This incredible civilization left huge remains that are accessible through incredible jungle forest. Many types of birds, reptiles, and plants and flowers of incredible diversity await you. Visiting one of these extraordinary temples is but a hop, skip and a jump away. Enjoy the beauty and be amazed by these great creations and return to La Isla Bonita and behold the beauty of the sun setting in this tropical isle.

Our People:

Belizeans are informal and friendly in greeting one another; it is considered rude not to greet even a slight acquaintance or the clerk or receptionist when entering a place of business. It is, however, considered impolite to greet people by their first names, (surnames are more acceptable) unless one has already established a relationship of some depth. A simple nod of the head or a wave is acceptable when passing someone on the street, and acquaintances might also be greeted with any number of introductory phrases as covered here:

Hey, how yu di do? ("Hello, how are you?")

Yu all rite? ("How are you?/Are you all right?")

¡Buenos días! ("Good morning!"/tardes! ("Good afternoon!"/noches! ("Good evening!") (Mestizos)

Weh di gwan? ("What's happening?") (Creole)

Other acceptable greetings are handshakes, combinations of palms and fists touching, thumbs locking and pats on the back, or even a kiss on the cheek for someone to show great appreciation and trust. Formal situations call for use of titles and surnames, and children are expected to address their elders with Miss/Mister and answer "Yes, ma'am" or "No, sir" when asked questions.

Food and eating

Belizeans eat widely from among the food groups. The typical breakfast consists of bread, often homemade but increasingly bought from grocery stores and bakeries, that is eaten with cheeses, beans, eggs or cereal, topped off by milk for younger ones and coffee or tea for adults. Midday meals vary, from foods such as tamales, panades, (fried maize shells with beans or fish) and meat pies, escabeche (onion soup), chirmole (soup), and garnaches (fried tortillas with beans, cheese, and sauce) to various constituted dinners featuring some type of rice and beans, meat and salad or coleslaw. In the rural areas meals may be more simplified than in the cities; the Maya use corn or maize for most of their meals, and the Garifuna are fond of seafood, cassava (particularly made into hudut) and vegetables. The nation abounds with restaurants and fast food establishments selling fairly cheaply. Fruits are quite common, but raw vegetables from the markets less so.

Wolfe's Woofers by Dennis Wolfe

Cable T.V.

"Isn't that Adrian over there?" Drummer Dan asked.

"Which Adrian?" I said.

"The one from Caye Caulker. You know; the one who always requests that song, 'Big Legged Woman'."

We were just getting off the water taxi, coming from Caye Caulker where we had played our Friday night gig. Sure enough, it was Adrian, the former bartender at Oceanside and now resident bartender at the Lazy Iguana Bar.

"Hey, Dennis and Drummer Dan," Adrian said.

He was sitting on a bench with a huge cardboard box next to him.

"We missed you last night at Oceanside," I told him.

"Yeah," he said. "I've been spending a couple of days over here in San Pedro with some friends."

"Did you go to the September day celebrations over here?" Dan asked. "They had a lot of parties going on."

"Not really," Adrian said. "I stayed at my friend's house and watched TV mostly. I'm a great fan of television, you know."

"No. I didn't know that," I said.

"I even bought a TV to take back to Caye Caulker with me," Adrian said, patting the box next to him.

"Why would you do that?" I asked. "Last week I was looking at some TV's in Caye Caulker in one of the stores and they were cheaper than any you can buy here in San Pedro."

"That's true," Adrian said, "but I bought this one because the programs in San Pedro are so much better than the ones in Caye Caulker."

Trivia Tidbits...

*Type O is the most common blood type in the world. Type AB is the rarest. There is also a subtype called A-H, but to date, only three people in the world are known to have it.

*The average adult stands 0.4 inch (1 cm) taller in the morning than in the evening, because the cartilage in the spine compresses during the day.

*Lettuce is the world's most popular green.

*The bat is the only mammal that can fly.

*An elephant may consume 500 pounds of hay and 60 gallons of water in a single day.

*The indentation in the middle area between the nose and the upper lip is called the Philtrum. Ancient Greeks considered this to be one of the body's most erogenous zones.
